

My Toronto Neighbourhood

Taiaiaiko'n—Parkdale—High Park

Jon Johnson

(French-Canadian, Haudenosaunee, Kichespirini)

"The Indigenous Environmental History of Toronto,
The Meeting Place"

Iroquoian Lake Trail Trade Route (buried river)

Black Oak Savannah

Web of Life:
sandy soil, oak trees and acorns, grasses,
animals, gardens, community gatherings.
ceremonies, burials

Dish with One Spoon
Wampum Treaty

Prescribed or Traditional Burn

Indigenous Land Stewardship Circle and Urban Forestry Department: From Conflict to Collaboration

Carolynne Crawley
(Mi'kmaq, Black and Irish ancestry)

Drumming, Singing, and Dancing On and with the Land

CEREMONY and COMMUNITY

Two-Eyed Seeing?

Reconciliation by Fire: Listening and Learning from Indigenous Peoples how to care for the land

Turtles on the Move Parade

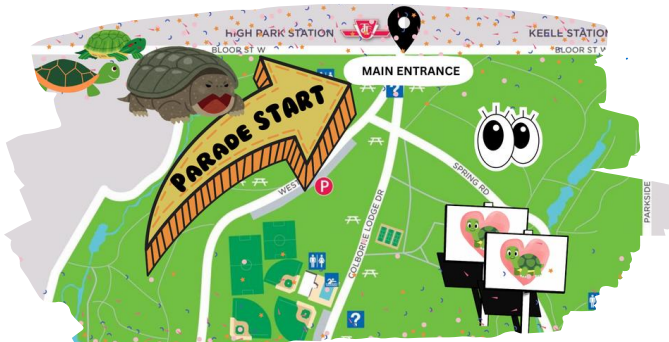

Saturday May 24, 2:00 - 4:00 PM

Led by Grandmother Vivian Recollet, the parade will feature Turtle puppets made by Ange Loft (Kanien'kehá:ka, from Kahnawà:ke, QC), Shadowland Theatre, Clay and Paper Theatre, Indigenous Drummers and Singers, Maracatu Mar Aberto and volunteers from turtle protection groups across Ontario.

Join us and bring a homemade Turtle puppet and/or a sign with words of encouragement for Turtle!

turtleprotectors.com

SCAN! ACTIONS

- Attend Indigenous led events:
Water Walk, Turtle Parade, Pow Wows
- Oppose harmful land use:
Chemical treatment, Clear-cutting, etc
- Cultivate healthy land practices:
Pollinator gardens, interplanting, etc.
- Honour ceremony
and Indigenous ways of knowing
- Lobby for policies that promote regenerative agriculture, community forestry
- Build relationships
with the land, with Indigenous peoples

Thanks to my friends, former students and current teachers:
Natasha Myers (ILSC), Jennifer LaFontaine (City Indigenous Affairs)
and Lorraine Johnson (native plant knowledge keeper)

